

As an amateur radio operator (AB8CQ) I believe that that the Broadband over Power Line issue will be very detrimental to the Amateur Radio Service, both as a national resource for emergency communications, and of course with this service either gone or depleted in any way, missing will be an important starting point for our next generation of electrical engineers and communications technicians.